Introduction

It was a year of change for the AGBI in 2016-2017, but what remains unchanged is our mission to support professional artists in times of need.

Our offices were relocated in July 2016. After many years operating from Burlington House, our office is now based in Soho, the mid-20th century hangout for artists such as Francis Bacon, Lucian Freud and Frank Auerbach. Our postal address and telephone number remain unchanged.

After many dedicated years of service to the AGBI, our President Ronald Maddox stepped down. Ronald will remain on the Council of the AGBI. In his place, the sculptor Nicola Hicks was voted in as the new President supported by the painter Simon Burton, who takes the position of Honorary Secretary.

The AGBI Council agreed that the tenure for these positions will be served for four years, with the possibility of serving an additional two years, at which point the member would step down and a new member voted in.

OUR IMPACT REPORT

Outlining the work we do

The AGBI welcomed Veronica Ricks, Principal of The Heatherley School of Fine Art, London onto the Council and Marcelo Scenna as Honorary Treasurer. The Council and staff of the AGBI would like to thank and welcome the new members Veronica and Marcelo for giving their time to the AGBI.

This Impact Report is a 'snap-shot' of the work that the AGBI carries out. The full set of the AGBI's audited accounts for the financial year 2016-2017 is available on our website (www.agbi.org.uk). Paper copies can be requested directly from the office by calling 020 7734 1193.

Who We Are

The Artists' General Benevolent Institution was founded in 1814 by members of the Royal Academy of Arts including J. M. W. Turner, John Constable and John Soane and incorporated by Royal Charter in 1842. The ABGI is one of the oldest charities in the United Kingdom.

The AGBI financially supports professional artists in need and their dependents living in England, Wales or Northern Ireland who cannot work or earn due to accident, illness or older age.

The AGBI is run by a Council of mainly practicing artists, applied artists, art custodians and medical professionals who give their time freely and meet regularly to discuss cases. The Council is supported by a small team of staff.

Who does the AGBI help?

Any professional artist, painter, sculptor or art teacher at A-Level or above can apply for help if they have earned their living (or major part of it), from art and cannot work due to accident, illness or older age. Widows and orphaned children of artists are also eligible for help.

Unfortunately, the AGBI cannot assist in cases where recession has caused career difficulties or when an artist is unable to find a market for their work. The AGBI is unable to assist with exhibition costs, legal fees, business difficulties or grants for mature students.

Eligibility Criteria

The AGBI Council look at the training, qualifications, details of exhibitions, art based employment and the number of years an applicant has made a living from art. The AGBI Council is presented with original examples of an applicant's work and recent letters from an applicant's GP or consultant confirming their medical circumstances.

For further information about the AGBI grants programme, to refer a potential applicant or for general enquiries contact the office on 020 7734 1193.

Assistance is given in the form of a grant for a period of one year. Sometimes this is all that is needed but generally the help is longer term. For those long term cases the circumstances are reviewed annually by the AGBI Council who meet regularly and decide the level of financial help an applicant needs in the coming year.

All details concerning individual applicants and their grants are kept strictly confidential.

HOW WE HELP

Supporting artists since 1814

Of the 127 applicants supported in this financial year, 19 were new applicants (11 in the previous year), 80 applicants needed continuing help (84 in the previous year) and 11 distinguished artists received the Jubilee Award (9 in the previous year). The AGBI Children's Fund (formerly The Artists' Orphan Fund), supported 17 children under the age of 25 and still in full-time education, who have lost the support of one or both parents through death, absence of disability (16 in the previous year).

The amount of grants disbursed to applicants increased from £389,177 in the previous financial year to £408,911 in 2016-2017.

The AGBI supports professional artists who cannot work due to accident, illness or older age. The life of an artist can be precarious at the best of times, but when ill health renders an artist unable to work and earn, their well-being and financial security can be severely impacted.

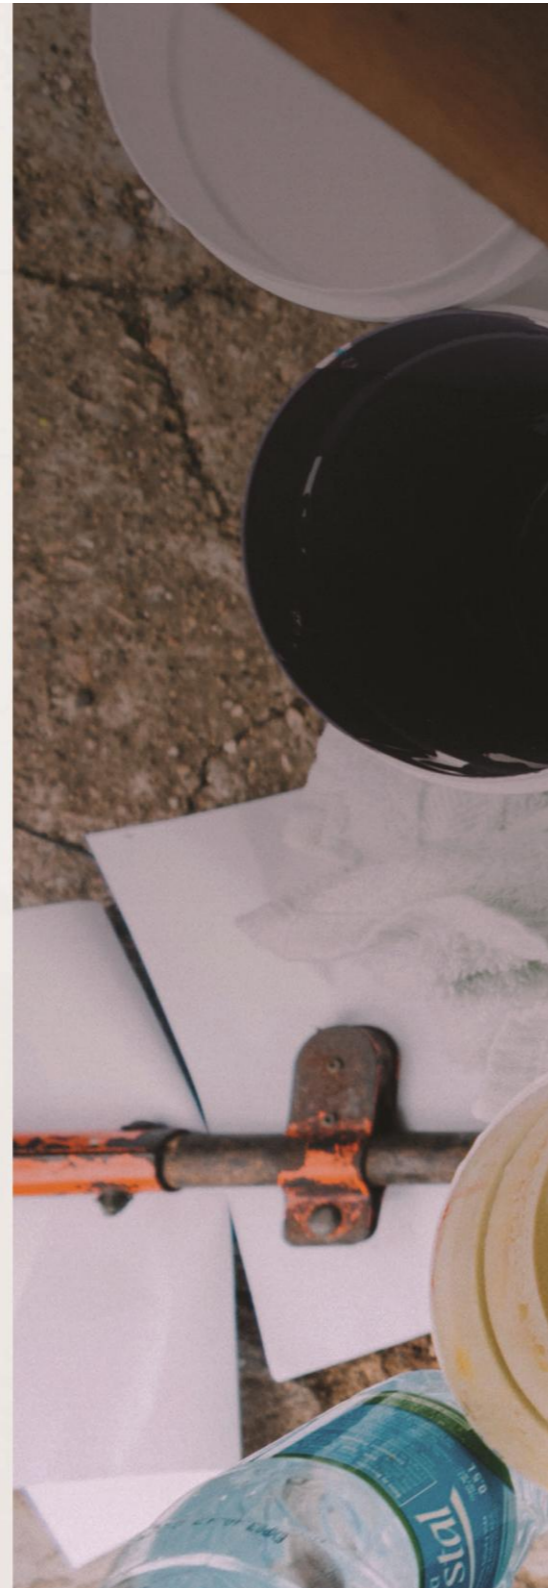

The AGBI is the only national benevolent fund targeted specifically to support artists in times of need. The support we give is person-centred, non-judgemental and delivered with compassion and confidentiality.

To illustrate the work of the AGBI, the following pages exemplify some of our recent cases. Their personal details have been changed to protect their identities.

Michael was referred to the AGBI in May 2016. He studied at the Slade School of Art in the 1950s and had taught and exhibited extensively throughout the country for over 50 years. In 2014 he was diagnosed with Parkinson's disease, his wife, also an artist, had become his full-time carer. Michael had carers going in to assist him twice a day but his wife was under great strain and could not cope. In recent years the couple had fallen into debt and were relying on credit cards to pay for the food and household bills.

The AGBI agreed to send a monthly grant to support this couple's household bills and lift them out of their debt, with our support they were able to be debt free in a matter of months which was a great relief for this couple. They were able to manage their finances much better with our support.

In February 2017, Michael peacefully passed away surrounded by his family. The AGBI contributed toward the costs of his funeral. His wife remains supported by the AGBI.

CASE STUDIES

Examples of our support

CASE STUDIES

Examples of our support

Joanna was referred to the AGBI in December 2016. She studied at the Royal College of Art in the late 1990s and had forged her artistic career in video and collage installations exhibiting at the Venice Biennale and various London galleries in recent years.

During her pregnancy with her first child and after a divorce, Joanna moved to Suffolk for a fresh start. Shortly after her move she started to experience severe migraines and vertigo. These symptoms remained after the birth of her child and she was later diagnosed with a brain tumour. The diagnosis had a huge impact on Joanna's life emotionally and for her art practice. The condition affected her vision and her hands tremored uncontrollably making it impossible to continue working which resulted in cancelled exhibitions and loss of earnings.

Joanna underwent surgery and therapy to reduce the size of her tumour. Thankfully, she is now convalescing and her condition is improving.

The AGBI supported Joanna with a one-off grant to pay for additional child care whilst she was unwell and to pay her rent for the entire year. This support was life changing for Joanna, who says she would not have coped without the AGBI's support.

CASE STUDIES

What people say

May I take this opportunity to say that the support the AGBI gives is worth far more than the sum of its parts - it is truly life enhancing to be noticed and included by the AGBI and I hope, one day, to be able to give something back.

My situation was very bleak at the beginning, I found myself weakened, distraught and in shock at my diagnosis. I do not exaggerate when I say your support was a lifeline giving me some hope, a sense that people were looking out for me and improving my quality of life when I had very little.

My daughter is only too aware of how difficult allies are to find in the current social care landscape, both her and I cannot stress enough how much we value the AGBI and how grateful we are to be in receipt (often at short notice) of the kindness, consideration and support provided.

It has been such a huge relief that with the help of the ABGI, I have been able to keep my studio and maintain my art practice whilst ill.

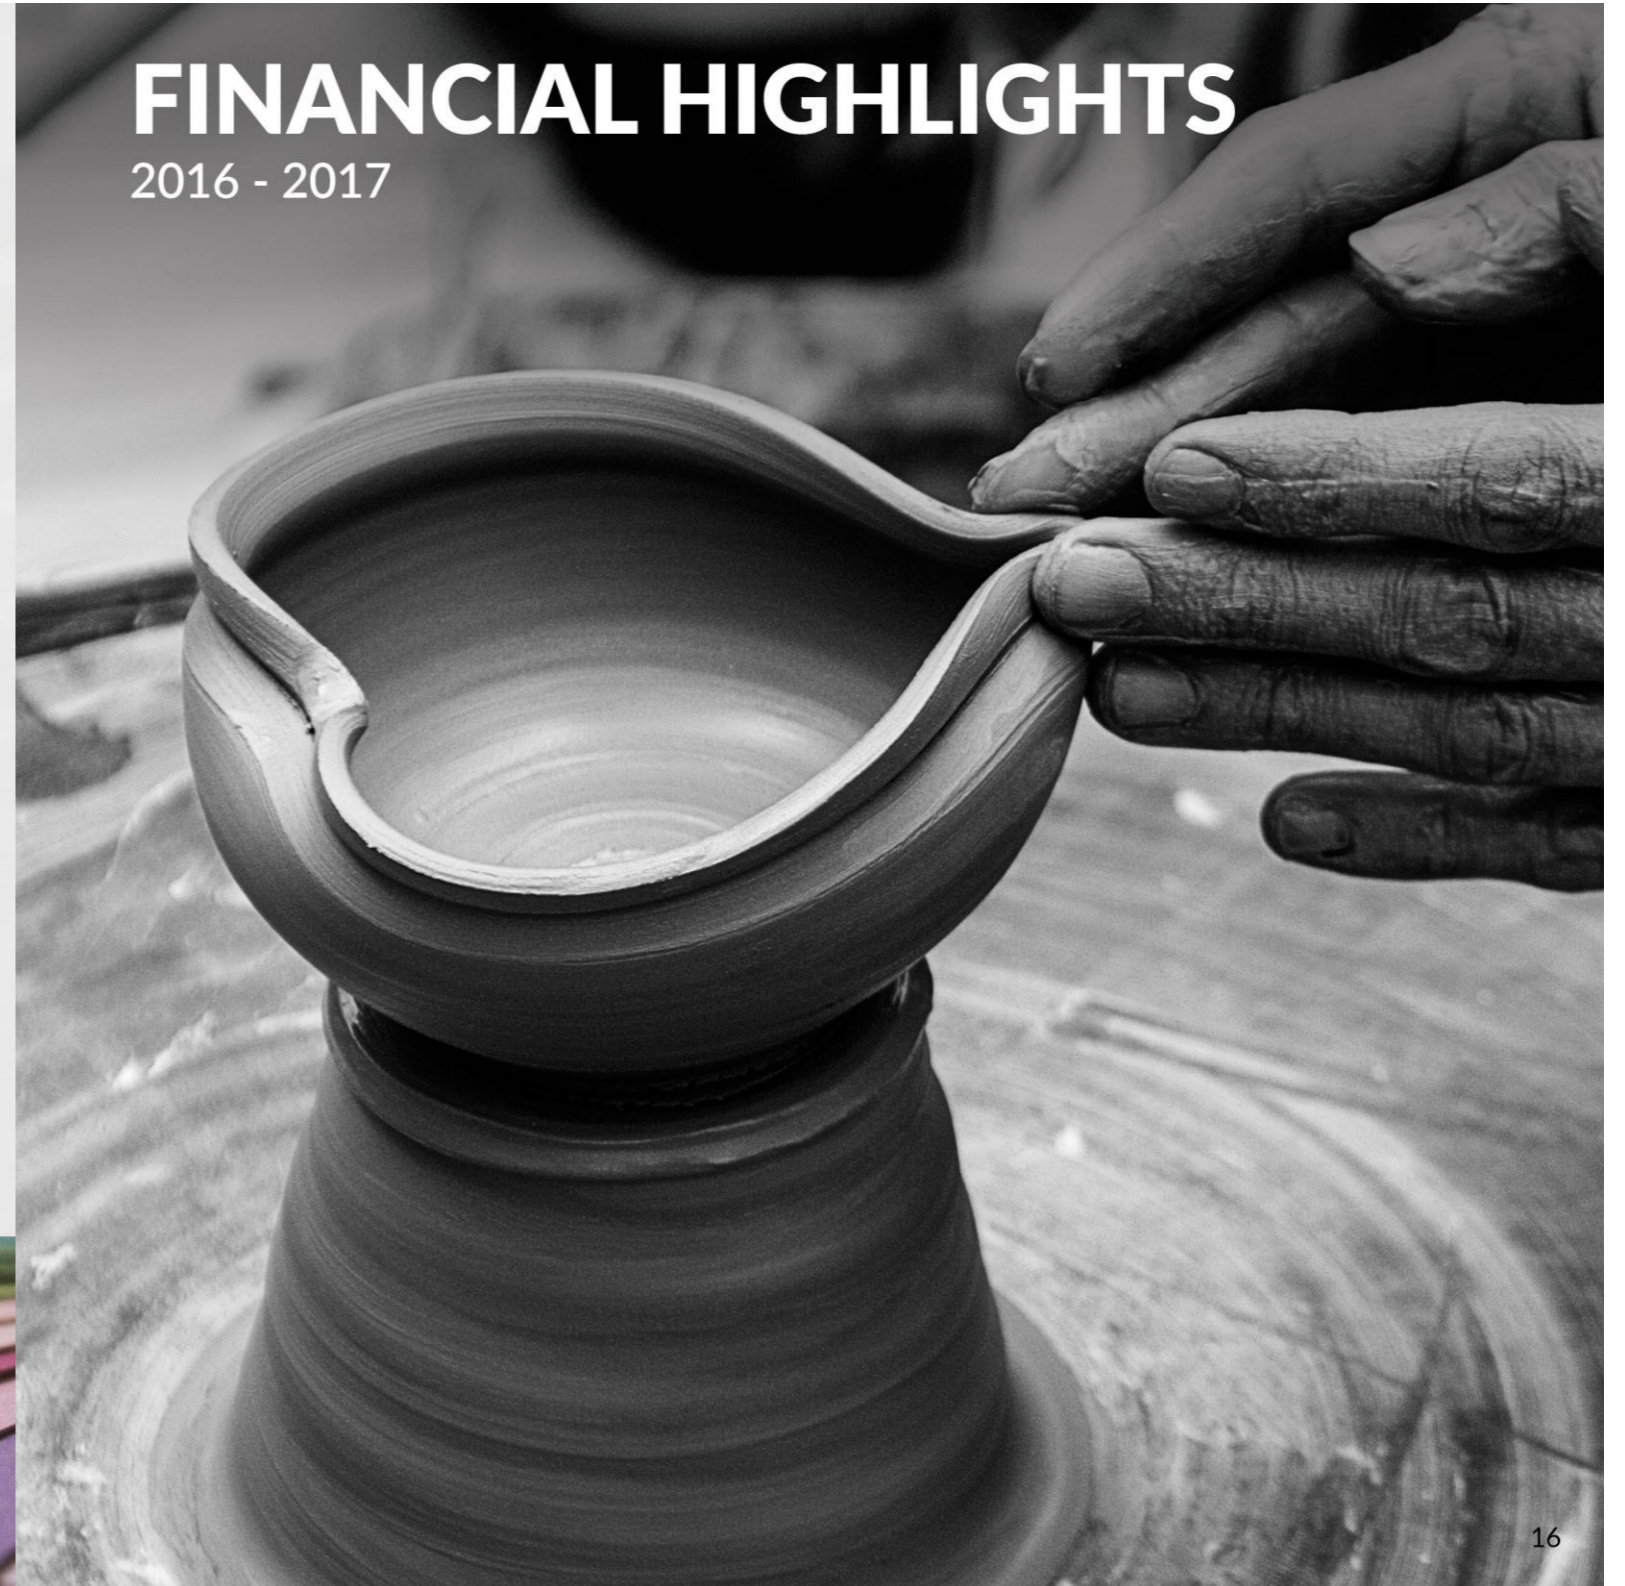

The full set of the AGBI's audited accounts for the financial year 2016-2017 is available on our website (www.agbi.org.uk). Paper copies can be requested directly from the office by calling 020 7734 1193.

To help raise much needed funds, the AGBI produces charity Christmas cards and greeting cards, some of which are produced by artists connected to the charity. You can purchase cards via our website, or by contacting the office on 020 7734 1193.

You can see the full range of cards available for sale by visiting www.agbi.org.uk

Every purchase you make will help the AGBI to continue supporting artists in financial need, and all profits from the sale of the cards go directly to the AGBI.
